Arlington Plan Commission President Retires

Carlson Honored at Dinner

BY RICHARD CRABR

Twelve years of service as a member and president of the Arlington Heights Plan Commission, a service that Village President John G. Woods said "would present the well being of Arlington Heights for a century to come," were honored Friday evening at a testimonial dinner for Harold E. Carlson.

The dinner, held at the Carved Pines, was attended by present and former members of the village commissions who have worked with Carlson and Arlington Heights village officials.

Harold Klinger, a member of the Board of Local Improvements during Carlson's service on the Plan Commission, said that the past of honor took a leading role in adopting the first village subdivision as well as upgrading Arlington Heights zoning ordinances. Under Carlson's direction, several new zoning categories were introduced, Klinger added.

Leadership at decisions were made to open meetings of the commission," Miller said.

PRESIDENT Woods began his tribute by showing his audience copies of documents issued by the plan commission under Carlson's leadership and on which the last-use policies under which the village is growing at a more rapid rate than any other Chicago area suburb.

Woods singled out Carlson's role in developing the Arlington Heights Master Plan and the Thoroughfare Plan, so recent that they have not yet been presented by the Village Board for adoption.

In closing, the village president also cited Carlson for his "sound judgement, integrity and fairness."

CARLSON responded saying, "I have some deep feelings about all of you. We worked as a team and I accept these kind remarks as 'thanks' to the entire Plan Commission as well as the other commission and the Village Board with which we worked so closely for so long."

"I felt that it was time for me to relinquish my responsibility to make way for new blood. I can assure you that my interest in what we have done and in the future development of Arlington Heights remains as high as it ever has."

"His service on the plan commission of a decade plus years will be reflected in the well-being of Arlington Heights for a century to come," said Village President John G. Woods at the testimonial dinner given for Harold E. Carlson. The presentation was made at a testimonial dinner given for Mr. Carlson at the Carved Pines Friday evening.

that my interest in what we have done and in the future development of Arlington Heights remains as high as it ever has. A certificate of honor was given.

No Meeting Tonight

The Arlington Heights Board of Trustees meeting scheduled tonight has been postponed until Tuesday, June 26, according to Village Manager L. A. Hansen.

Reason for the postponement is that four of the seven members of the board are out of the city. A board quorum requires attendance by four of the seven members.

Members unavailable for tonight's meeting are Roy Brenner and C.D. Bennett, out of the city on business; F. O. Paul, on vacation; and J. G. Woods, village president, also absent from the city for business reasons.

Scheduled meetings of the board of Trustees are the first and third Mondays of the month at 8 p.m. at the Municipal Building.

Arlington Classic Slated for Saturday

The $100,000 added Arlington Classic, first leg of the coveted Mid-America Twin for three-year-olds, will be presented for the thirty-ninth time Saturday as a climax to the first week of the regular 36-day Arlington Park Jockey Club meeting which opens its stand today.

THE ARRLINGTON Park is a second place of the continuous 100-day spring-summer season which runs thru Sept. 11. It is followed, consecutively by a six-day Chicago Tribune Charity meet, then the regular 31-day Washington Post Jockey Club meeting.

Three stakes headline Classic Week at Arlington. It starts with Monday's $20,000 added Mademoiselle Stakes at five and one-half furlongs for juvenile fillies and concludes Wednesday's $20,000 added Juleti Stakes for two-year-olds, also at five and one-half furlongs.

THE FINEST three-year-olds in racing — and there are eligible for the Classic at racing's most exciting distance of a flat mile, triggered by that half-mile straightaway run on the head of the mile.

The nominations roster includes such bright lights as Tartan Stable's Dr. Fager, Earl E. Bower's Dan Patch, Darby Dan Farm's Proud Crown, Wheatley Stable's Disciplinarian, Harvey Pelletier's Whiskey Mary, Frances A. Comer's In Realism, Elkanah Stable's Royal Malabar, Beverly Kitch's Farm's Lightning Horse, George E. Robb's Tomaga and Fred W. Hooper's Olympia Six, among others.

AT LAST, FRODO, Dr. Fager was definitely benighted for the Classic, coming off a luckless effort in the $100,000 added Jersey Derby. The Rough Tumble colt was the race authoritatively by some 10 lengths only to be disqualified for bolting the balance of the four-mile race and placed fourth.

Dr. Fager in many minds is the nation's most promising three-year-old despite bypassing the Triple Crown — a feat which the Derby and Belmont.

Bob Stevens Signs Pro Contract With Phillies

Southpaw pitcher Bob Stevens of Mount Prospect announced this weekend that he has signed a professional baseball contract with the Philadelphia Phillies.

STEVENS, who was chosen by the Phillies in the Class A draft last week, will report tomorrow to Hiram, S.D. to play for the rookie league club of the Phillies before the regular season schedule there beginning next Sunday.

The rookie league season opens Sept. 14 and Stevens will be offered for reassignment to another Phillies club at that time.

Stevens signed for a cash bonus with the Phillies and agreed to pay for his college education. Stevens said he probably will attend St. Mary's College in Winona, Minn.

Waycinden Wins Mid-Ten Tilt

Rick Gillespie pitched the Waycinden Area Mid-Ten League entry to a 5-1 victory over Elm Grove yesterday.

Gillespie went all the way for the Waycinden unit, giving up only four hits. The winner held off offensive was sparked by Hank Tache's home run.

Tennis Post

Former Michigan State tennis coach Bob Malaga has become the executive assistant to the president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Classic is springboard to nation's Classic, first leg of the coveted Mid-America Twin for three-year-olds, will be presented for the thirty-ninth time Saturday as a climax to the first week of the regular 36-day Arlington Park Jockey Club meeting which opens its stand today.

There is tremendous interest in the return to action of Diplomat Way, who was a Futurity winner who was forced to bypass the recent Stakes with a minor leg ailment.

DIPLOMAT WAY looked

SHAVING STROKES by Frank Beard Long Irons

THE LONG IRONS are the most difficult clubs for the everyday golfer, and even the pros to handle and control properly. The long irons are the clubs that the short irons try to swing without swinging a nine iron. They are the clubs that any other club and that the left a practically in the position to the other clubs.

I might have here for one thought that differs radically from what I have been stressing about iron play. The long irons include the one, two, and three irons. In some cases, it is possible to try for a little power and distance with these clubs, but they are the only ones you should ever try it with, and then only under certain conditions.

IT IS A GOOD IDEA to use these clubs off the tee in very tight situations and on short, narrow holes where distance is not a factor. The long irons can become valuable "driving clubs" because of the workability they will.

But you should again maintain our basic approach to iron — swing with control and accuracy to the point. That's where you can get in trouble with your long irons. Because they are longer, with less than is ordinarily comfortable, there is a tendency to force or overhit these clubs and try to "help" them into the air.

like his old self when he spread a good field, including Proud Clarion, in the Blue Grass at Keeneland, he returned to Arlington and won an electric swing back to full a wave of sky of Disciplinarian in the six furlong Sheridan.

Royal Malabar, who settled for second in the Illinois Derby, while Lightning Arion comes off a second to Disciplinarian in the three furlong Sheridan.

Monday's Mademoiselle is expected to mark the Chicago debut of Wilton-Hill's Jet to Market, the nation's number one two-year-old filly. Winner of seven straight, four of them stakes, Jet to Market has been working splendidly for her local bow.

THIS problem can be eliminated very easily with a few minutes of practice. Always keep your swing when you are swinging the long irons. Try to swing without swinging a nine iron. They are the clubs that any other club and that the left a practically in the position to the other clubs.

Braves Top Sox In Prospect Hts.

The Prospect Heights Major Division Braves squeaked a four inning before the rain came Friday, and it was plenty of time to thank the Sox.

Rick Manderscheid performed the pitching chores for the Braves, giving up three hits. Losing twirler Ken Johnson was aided for his safety, including doubles by Bruce Kestling, Kevin McElrath, and Tom Sheffield.

In another Minor Division match, the Pirates pummeled the Phillies, 16-1. The Phillies rapped off 13 base hits. Mark Knutzel's two-run home run in the first inning capped the attack, and Mike George added a triple, while Dick Minck contributed a double. John played was the losing pitcher.

The only game played yesterday saw the Major Division Braves dump the Cardinals, 13-1. Jack Armstrong allowed only three hits while getting a victory for the league-leading Braves.

Horoscope

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)

An excellent day for fulfilling several ambitions - whether at home or at work. Don't allow an opportunity to pass you by. Dramatize your idea and you should find a ready audience from which should come the backing you need. Seek financial support.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)

All aspects of this day seem to be working for your advancement now. Take usual precautions and you can do little wrong to day.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)

Turn your full attention to business matters at this time. This is not the day for socializing.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)

Longed-for results can be yours today if you are wise enough to grab an opportunity by the tail as it rushes by. Keep your eyes open.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

A good time to make progress if you have a business deal in the fire. Make arrangements with others to take care of home matters.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)

Unexpected happenings can be yours if you can handle a business partner wisely. Be warned, however, against getting into a hole.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)

Recognize a good thing when you see it and you should be halfway to the success you seek. Don't be fooled by looks.

Flood Damage Estimate $250,000: U.S. Official

BY LARRY WELLS

Damage estimates from downtown loan applications from the northern suburban area are reaching $250,000, says Thomas Cane, regional director of the Small Business Administration (SBA).

"From what we saw, approximately 600 houses were damaged by water with losses running from $400 or $500 to about $1,000," Cane said yesterday.

Damage estimates from local officials were running much higher than $250,000, Cane said. John Morgan, Mount Prospect village manager, said between $300,000 and $500,000 was in his village alone. DEB PLAINES MAYOR Herbert Baird said he was about 200 houses with damage running about $1,000 apiece in the Walker Creek area, and about $100,000 in that district at $340,000.

"The SBA estimate is, of course, based upon the amount of application received," he said, "but you have to remember a lot of people are not applying for a loan and are pulling themselves out by their bootstraps. They have cleaned out their basements and thrown away their drained

THE ILLINOIS REPORT

Clark Warns Charities on Bad Practices

By United Press International

HOUSTON—Illinois Atty. Gen. William G. Clark warned yesterday that because of fraudulent, corrupt and inefficient agencies, charities may be headed for trouble.

Clark said that although the number of charitable organizations in Illinois is steadily increasing over the past few years, the "gold word" established by the "charities quickly turned up" is in danger of losing its luster.

The attorney general, speaking at a banquet of the United Way, said that the proliferation, false reporting on use of funds, grinding competition, overlapping organizations and inefficient and ineffective charitable agencies have cost Americans millions of dollars.

Head-on Crash Kills Four

Four persons were killed and seven injured last night when two cars crashed head-on near a farm preserve in south suburban Riverside.

Six persons were in one car, five in the other, police Sgt. Frank Albrecht said.

Killed in the car westbound on 134th street were the driver, Robert Burton, 18, Midland; Diane Novak, 15, Culmer Park; and Michael Boonman, 16, Culmer Park. The injured were Gary Polivick, 20, Midland; and Pamela Broughton, 15, Culmer Park.

The eastbound car, Albrecht said, was driven by Robert Purdy, 40, Chicago, who was seriously injured. Purdy's daughter, Sandra, 10, was killed. A son, Richard, 15, was injured, along with two Riverside brothers the Purdy were taking home after a weekend visit. John Christensen, 15, and Michael 12.

Alternatives For Flood Loss Victims

Homeowners who are not eligible for a disaster loan through the Small Business Administration (SBA), or desire to deal with their own bank, will find several alternatives to choose from.

One is to employ the "cash out mortgage" plan. Donald Morgan, executive vice president of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn., said, "Our own borrowers can increase their balance and spread the amount to be repaid over the remainder of the term."

Another way is to use a homeowner's improvement loan, which many banks in the area offer, usually up to $5,000. The First Arlington National Bank is currently offering a special loan at a below-market rate to homeowners having flood damage.

Many people in the northern suburban area will be going to their own banks, Morgan said, because their own banks are in too good a position to help them.

"However, if someone does qualify, I'm in favor of it," Morgan said. "I don't doubt many people will be getting the government loan."

Police Issue Warning On Swimming Holes

BY JACK COPE

Two deaths by drowning during the recent weekend have increased concern about swimming in unauthorized swimming holes in the Arlington Heights area.

Both police and parents have expressed fears that the toll may increase if youth continue to frequent such "holes" as Redman's Lake in Rolling Meadows, the Savoye quarter in Arlington Heights, numerous water-filled holes along the highway, and such deep pits as the one on the Scharnhausen property west of Illinois 53 and near the WGN radio tower. The latter is nearly 100 feet deep sloping the recent rain, according to local police.

"TM A professional Scuba diver," says Rolling Meadows police sergeant Charles Postle, "I wouldn't think of diving without someone to watch me." Postle was one of the men who found the body of Bruce Payne Friday in the Savoye quarter.

Postle explained that many of the lakes in the area are spring-fed and that once you go under the surface a short distance, the cold current from the springs can easily cause cramps.

St. Maurice High, Arlington Heights, chief of detectives, added that during the Postle's, and said that the rules of safe swimming are as follows:

"No one should swim where there isn't a gentle slope to the beach or shore, nor should they swim in a hole without proper supervision. I don't mean that the best swimming is in a sand-bottomed lake in a wooded area, but the danger created by excavations have mud bottoms and are filled with many different kinds of debris.

Postle said that while he was diving during the search for the Payne youth, he noticed many pieces of cars and other junk with sharp edges which could mean or kill an unwary swimmer.

Members of a group of around 100 residents have raised the point that if they were to have even the smallest of swimming pools in their front or backyard, the city or county would require them to fence the pool adequately. None of the pits and excavations along the highway area, including the largest one—Redman's (or Tolway) Lake. Another large pit that is said to be completely unfenced is the hole on the State property north of Central Rd. and west of Kossile Rd.

UNDER ILLINOIS law it is not always sufficient to have signs and fencing if the property conditions which is called an "attractive hazard."

Village Mgr. Quits In Mount Prospect

John Morgan, village manager of Mount Prospect, has submitted his resignation as village manager and board of trustees. The action was taken according to a village hall meeting.

Morgan's resignation came after he was elected to the village at the end of the year. Morgan said on June 20, he balance and spread the amount to be repaid over the remainder of the term.

Dist. 59 Plans Referendum

Dist. 59 is planning a bond referendum in the fall, probably in October. Whether the district will seek approval of a raise in the educational tax rate as well as a bond referendum for new buildings and additions has not yet been decided.

Supt. Donald Thomas told board members Monday the proposed figure of $400 per pupil for the tax aid may be in jeopardy unless the General Assembly passes a "meaningful" revenue bill.

"If we don't get the tax aid we need, we may need to reduce services or go for the increase in the educational tax rate along with the bond referendum," he said.

Also on the list of tentative goals Dr. Thomas presented to the board were site improvement, land purchases, and library-and learning-center improvement.

Of the 18 referendum Dist. 59 has held since 1954, 12 have passed. The only one failed by voters was a tax increase for transportation, was voted down in April, 1963, but passed two months later when Dist. 59 presented it again.

Most significant proposal in the district's history was $5,450,000 three-year building program passed in 1965, which was approved by a vote of 1769 to 486. Under this program, John Jay and Adam Richard E. Byrd Elementary Schools, Juliette Low School, Oliver Wendell Holmes Middle School, and additions to Ridge, Grant Wood, Elmfont, Devonshire, and Robinson School have already been completed or are under construction.

PLANNING NOW is under way for Tom Lively Junior High School in Elk Grove Village and for an expanded Dist. 59 administration building.

"We have fulfilled every obligation we've committed ourselves to," said William Mann, the district's assistant superintendent in charge of finance, who presented the tax rate history to board members.

He added that population projections for the district may total about 10,000 students at "saturation."

NO DEFINITE dates, financial amounts, or detailed plans have been set for the bond referendum. These will be decided during the summer by the board.

Dist. 59 schools in Mount Prospect are Forest View Elementary, Robert Frost, Dempster Junior High School, Oliver Wendell Holmes, and John Jay Elementary. In Arlington Heights, the district has Juliette Low School. It also includes buildings in Des Plaines and Elk Grove Village.

Insulin - Shock Cases Spur Medic Warning

Two cases of severe insulin reaction in Arlington Heights children point up the need for more care in administering the medicine to diabetics, especially children, during the summer months.

Police reports indicate there have been no recorded cases of insulin shock for some time, but last night, two such cases arose. The first was a 12-year-old girl and the second a 10-year-old boy.

According to the parents of the children, doctors advised that children may need to burn up more blood sugar from the created exertion now that school is out and that the warmer weather may add to complications. Parents should watch their child's reaction to insulin and consult the family doctor in case their reaction is more serious than the diabetic.

The 16-year-old girl was brought out of the shock without requiring hospitalization, but the 10-year-old boy was admitted to Northwestern Community Hospital. He is expected to be released some time today.

Got to think about what the Bride said about gun-fighters who are chicken and tried to imagine what might transpire if a really bad gun-fighter tangled with one who was slightly yeller.

The scene is a dirty old saloon in Glitter Gulch, and "Smokey" Slade, the reluctant renegade, is sipping a shot of rye alone at the bar when Bud Black Bart bursts through the swinging doors.

BART: "SLADE, there ain't room enough for both of us in this town, and if you ain't gone by sundown, I'm going blow your head clean off!"

SLADE: "Hi there, Fella! How you doing? How's your horse?"

Bart: "You better stop yapping and start making tracks, Slade. 'Cause I'm gonna buy you a one-way ticket to Boot Hill!"

Slade: "Durn you, Bart, if you don't beat all. Yure always scumming and growling, but I know here that meen hude of yours, there beas a heart of pure gold."

BART: "NO KIDDING, Slade, if you ain't outa town in two hours you'll be dand in three. I'm not a funning ya this time."

Slade: "Well, gee whiz, Bart, don't you suppose we should look at all sides of this?"

mean, can't we talk this over like friends instead of always being after each other like the Arabs and the Jews?"

Bart: "I'm taking over this town, Slade, and me and my boys ain't to drive you out of here as our first project. If you don't want a skunk of holes, you better git now, while you can still hold water."

SLADE: "BUT Bart, you know me, I'm not such a hot guy. Why wouldn't you want me around in case the Marshal catches you pinching Miss Kitty? You better remember I've got a real reputation for being gun went of Hondo!"

Bart: "Slade, I'm going count up to five (I guess) and if you ain't outa here by that doorway, your gonna be shootin' them 'EYES'!"

Slade: "Now! Just hold on here a minute, Bart. You can't talk to me like that! My mon-me says I'm very special and that I mustn't get all tenced up like a nut!"

BART: "SIX! Two! Seven..."

Slade: "Besides that, Bart, I'm ddbin' you to be my security in this town. And I know you're a real serious shoot..."

Slade: "Put that silly gun back in your holle."

Day by Day

This and That

—By Catherine O'Donnell

Next week 174 students will meet in Washington, D.C. to sign a petition and then board an airplane to return to homes in France. The 174 are exchange students. Two of them spent the past weekend at guests of Mary Anne Cashion, 212 S. Windsor. Mary Anne, daughter of the Thomas Cashion, graduated in June from Sacred Heart High School. In the same class was Danielle Desnoes of Lyons, France. Danielle's friend and classmate from a French school, Dominique Foucault, who has been staying in Minneapolis while attending Regina High School there, came to Arlington Heights for a visit. The three girls spent most of the weekend checking out Chicago and having fun.

Montgomery Ward's dress department has just the solution for all of the people who were bothered by an avalanche of worms as an aftermath of the recent flood. They have brilliantly colored, completely lined, flowered shirts. The label inside of the shirt says the dress was made in "Beautiful Osaka Japan for Malinches." "Hand Washable." "Wash in Warm Water with Mild Soap." "Press With Lowest Setting." Now that poses a real tough question. An engineer might be able to figure a way to get the worms out of the water but how do you get the water out of the worms to wash the shirt.

DOCTOR SAYS

Gouty Arthritis

W.G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q-The doctor told my husband to make Durven for his gouty arthritis. Is this drug harmful or habit-forming? The doctor said he isn't taking any poisons. Why?

A-Diuretics (water pills) are not habit-forming and not harmful if taken as prescribed. Although aspirin and other medications have been used in the past in the treatment of gout they are no longer given because they increase the uric acid in the blood which is much more effective for treating this disease.

Q-My doctor is giving me Dianabol. What is it for?

A-Medical Dianabol (Dianabol) may be given to help you gain weight, to treat osteoporosis (weakening of the bones) and arthritis, especially in persons who are over 40.

Horoscope

For Wednesday

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Protect personal interests at the same time that you make gains in business or profession. Don't let emotions run away with you.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Where plans call for a change in order to make them more profitable, don't hesitate to alter things. A good day for moving ahead.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — A good time for signing on the job advancement. Act now if you would get the jump on others who have the same idea.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Test your talents by actions today. Those who would impress will believe much more of what they see than of what they hear.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Consider partnership relationships carefully now—especially those on the domestic front. No time for making things difficult.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 23) — A day of opportunity for the Scorpio who recognizes an opportunity offered by others. Don't worry about personal matters now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24-Dec. 23) — An increase in income should result from your investment today. But don't expect results until some time in the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24-Jan. 20) — If you're a head for invention, this could be your day to outline your company. Don't let others get the jump on you.

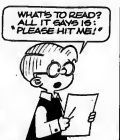

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Get plans off the drawing board and use action without further delay. Your goal is clear that you think.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) — Plans to change home or work schedule should only be put into effect today — if you're sure!

ARIES (Mar. 22-Apr. 20) — You may be tempted by the promise of pleasure to set business or professional matters aside. Be wise, don't give in.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Nothing ventured, nothing gained. This is a day for letting your adventurous nature have the upper hand and getting ahead in the bargain.

Gyp Artists Work Old Con Games

This is the time of the year when the Chicago Better Business Bureau issues the annual warning about door-to-door confidence men. With the sun high in the sky and temperatures comfortably warm, the "home improvement" confidence game solicitors emerge from cold-water hibernation with brand new schemes involving old swindles to prey on the unsavory and worried housewife deep in her semi-annual housecleaning.

Many a housewife will fall victim to these smooth talkers after viewing demonstration wrought inside and outside of her home by shiny winter wear and the late spring, alarmed by mounting home-repair expenses, she welcomes amazing savings and only payments offered her by gyp artists.

Here are some of the actors and scripts used in this annual racket.

Terrible Inauguration He offers a "dangerous condition," one which must be attended to immediately. See critics who are sure all repairs are satisfactorily completed.

The Chicago Better Business Bureau provides home owners with information on firms and individuals offering these types of services. Investigate before you buy.

Registration Open For Day Camp

Registration is still open for the Rolling Meadows Park District day camp program. Four two-week sessions will be held from July 7 to July 14, 14 to 21, 21 to 28, and 28 to Aug. 4.

Included in the activities are: campfire, nature, handicrafts, trips to points of interest in the Chicago area and attendance at major league baseball games.

No more than 35 children will be enrolled for any one session. The $10 fee for camp activities from Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Advent registration is necessary. Those interested are asked to call the park district office, 292-4300.

THINK CHRISTMAS NOW FOR OUR FIGHTING MEN IN VIETNAM. PARTICIPATE IN OPERATION SHOP EARLY AS AN INDIVIDUAL OR WITH A GROUP BY HELPING PROVIDE OUR SERVICE MEN WITH A SPECIAL GIFT BAG CONTAINING PERSONAL ITEMS CALL OR WRITE THE NORTH DAKOTA COUNTY REGIONAL RED CROSS OFFICE TODAY ON A 900-700 CENTRAL STREET, EVANSTON, ILL.

Shoppers will be reminded to "think Christmas" during the summer months by Arlington Red Cross "Operation Shop Early" posters which will be displayed throughout area stores. The new Red Cross program will provide such outdoor assistance to Vietnam war Christmas gifts.

Red Cross Seeks Aid In Filling Gift Bags

Christmas shopping is underway already by the Arlington Red Cross, which, with the help of interested citizens, hopes to provide every U.S. serviceman in Vietnam with a "Santa Claus Gift Bag" this Christmas.

Under the name "Operation Shop Early," the Red Cross is submitting a list of items to be included in the gift bags and hopes to gain the support of community organizations in the project.

VOLUNTEERS of the Mid-America Chapter, which includes the Chicago area, will make the bags and individuals and groups are invited to take part by donating the gifts.

Longer Hours Sought

Everybody knows that downtown Arlington has more customers in Arlington Heights certainly aren't. What makes them unhappy are the present village ordinances regarding establishment serving alcoholic beverages. Many of the tavern owners have expressed the feeling the ordinances put them at a disadvantage because of the restrictions on hours and the restrictions against selling package goods.

MOST OF THE surrounding communities allow taverns to stay open until hours from 1 to 3 a.m., and local owners, they point out that package goods stores here close earlier than do the taverns, and they are constantly getting requests for carry-out goods after the liquor stores have closed.

While a number of area residents agreed it would be better to have longer hours for taverns, all of them expressed a desire to keep the downtown area from becoming a "night life" location.

IT IS DUBIOUS that a night life area would develop if closing hours were set before 2 a.m., another area resident said. This, he explained, is because you must have entertainment to have such an area and taverns operating until 2 a.m. can't afford it.

The entire subject came up as a result of the report to the Village Board of Trustees by Mayor John G. Woods, in which he said three applications had been received for the licenses previously held by Loretta's Inn. The board will have to act on the applications in the near future.

'They Stamped, Whistled, Clapped'

Band Gets Expo Ovation

BY MAXINE TYMA

Montreal, Canada, June 20: International applause thundered in an Expo '67 bandstand as members of the Prospect High School Symphonic Band performed Tuesday.

The crowd seemed to leave. More than 3,000 people stamped, whistled or cheered and, of course, the band played on.

Call Comes in Loud and Clear

Harry Gilling of 1517 E. Wing, Arlington Heights, an amateur radio operator of 27 years experience, had one of the thrills of "a ham operation" after Embassy evening. He had a half-hour conversation with his own radio and several other members of the Prospect High School concert band who yesterday broadcast a capsule report at two o'clock given at EXPO '67.

THE CONVERSATION between the two countries, Canada and the United States, was possible because of Gilling and his neighbor, Steve Beck, who was making the trip with the school band to Montreal. The conversation took place between 6:30 and 7 p.m. It was planned to have a number of the band members talk directly from the fair to the radio. It was also planned to have a radio operator from the Prospect High School and Maxine Tyms with him. The DAV office in Arlington Heights, before all of these things were decided, the time was gone. Although the conversation from Montreal to Arlington Heights was excellent, the conditions at the originating station at the fair were not so good.

IT WAS possible, though, for three members of the band to talk to their homes. They were Larry Bloom, Bill Duden, and Larry Bloom. Bill Duden being the only person to talk via radio directly to her home. Larry Bloom talked to both his mother and Miss Brown. Mr. Gilling arranged for the radio operator to be "piped" directly into the telephone receiver. The band members' talking home via radio reported the thrill of playing before such large and appreciative crowds at the fair. The weather has been ideal.

Century Club To Meet Here

The Century Club will hold its annual meeting tomorrow night at 8 at the Arlington Heights Masonic Temple, 1105 S. State Rd.

At the agenda will be election of new board members and discussion of vital problems, according to Jerry Hehl, president of the club. Hehl is also the worshipful master of Arlington Heights Lodge No. 1162, A. F. & A. M. All members are urged to attend.

Windows Blasted

Mrs. Joseph Kobake, 121 N. Danton, reported to Arlington Heights police yesterday that the heard shots behind her home and later discovered holes in the 24" by 36" window on the second floor of her home.

The stage band is scheduled to give two performances at Expo on Wednesday, under the direction of Palmer.

Parents of several band members have traveled to the exposition and are touring Expo with the students.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our girl Montreal reports that "We haven't got a band member yet, but we have lost one and a clarinet."

Area Has 827 Accidents During Last Five Months

Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Rolling Meadows accounted for 827 of the total 21,760 auto accidents reported to local, county and highway police in Cook county during the first five months of 1961.

None of the county's 72 into accident deaths were in the three local municipalities.

A breakdown shows Arlington Heights had 377 accidents, with property damage involved in 342, a total of 47 persons were reported injured in 35 of the accidents.

ROLLING MEADOWS had a total of 372 accidents, 320 of which involved property damage. Sixty-two persons were reported injured in 52 of the accidents.

A total of 88 accidents have been reported for Rolling Meadows. Of these 71 involved property damage and 19 persons were injured in 17 separate accidents.

After six days, the elegant pool which covered the 1100 block of Streator in Arlington Heights has finally drained. Whelton Township Highway Commissioner Lawrence Curran called the military dikes placed there adequate for the job.

"It's just that it rained too much," he said.

Hauff Gets 3 Years

Richard W. Hauff, 30, former owner of the Mount Prospect Country Club, was sentenced yesterday to three years in prison for fraud.

Hauff, a sometime "fly by night" of the financial world, was accused of flooding investors after he persuaded them to put money into a nonexistent Las Vegas casino.

U.S. District Judge Albert J. Nagel ordered Hauff to serve the three years after he completes a previous three-year term for income tax evasion.

Hauff's attorney, Daniel Aher, pleaded for leniency. He said that Hauff was only 22 years old when he got involved in "big money" promotion.

Attends Meeting

Harry B. Neumann, D.M., a megaphone, 315 N. Danton, Arlington Heights, will attend the 5th annual convention of the American Napagrapic Association in North Aurora.

The driver licenses of these Mount Prospect residents were suspended. They include Paul J. Gans, 112 Brookfield; James D. McLaughlin, 529 E. Lincoln; and Edward G. Stutzman, 220 S. Main.

And Now Disposable Rugs

It's Only a Paper World

We live in an all disposable world: paper disposable dishes, clothes designed of paper material and now even joining the paper explosion.

Regal Rugs Inc. is unveiling the first collection of rug design made for now - not forever.

This new collection is being shown at the International Office Home Furnishings Market this week in Chicago.

The husband and wife team of Henry and Eleanor Kluck of Kluckhans Design who have gained prominence in textile and rug fields, have designed new paper rugs. They are splashy, bright and gay and the designs are made of paper and a matching printed disposable fabric is offered as an accessory.

One design, in black and white, can be read all over. Called "News Confused," it is a pastiche collage of off beat newspaper features, such as "Bird's Nest" is a quilted rug, 3 feet by 5 feet, hand dyed fabric to match. Another, "Sea Scroll," is a white scroll design which is printed and quilted on black and has white paper yarn fringed tassels.

"Sea" with sun colors of graining trees decreasing in size from the bottom up, is quilted and edged with floppy soft fringe.

A paint-by-number floral rug called "Color Me Gay" can actually be personalized by the owner with acrylic paints. "Bird's Nest" is a 54 inch square, quilted and quilted design with blue, speckled eye centered by a nest of tufted, dried paper straw.

A delicate tracery of filigreed medallions printed and quilted in soft fuchsia blue, green and natural. This rug known as "Filigree" is reversible in 3'6" x 5'6" size with roomy corners and matching drapes.

All rugs are treated to be flame resistant and more durable than the usual paper items. Colorful and almost washable the rugs are perfect floor covering for dust free rooms.

Defends Young Generation

TV entertainer, Art Linklater, appearing before the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention in San Francisco, disagreed with those who disparage of today's young people. "Each generation gets the young people it deserves," he told hundreds of club leaders among them Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs and Mrs. Gordon T. Beckley, junior director of IFWC.

"If we are alarmed and concerned about young people's behavior, we must remember that it is a startling world to which we have brought them. But he also made it clear that he does not share the view of some that young people are 'going to the dogs'."

Grace Lutheran Awards Four Camp Scholarships

The Worship and Music Department of Grace Lutheran Church in Prospect Heights awarded four scholarships to four members of the junior choir. Beth and Kath Widlich daughters of Rev. and Mrs. Albert Widlich will share one half scholarship. Other recipients were Cheryl Widlich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Widlich; Mark Widlich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Widlich; and both of Mount Prospect, and Sheri Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Russell of Prospect Heights. THE PURPOSE OF the scholarships is to enable children of the congregation to further their interests in music at Camp Augustine, Lake Geneva this summer. Awards were made according to interest, attendance and spirit. Other members of the junior choir received wooden crosses in appreciation for their contribution to the service. Howard Kilgus is the choir director.

Celebrating their 15th wedding anniversary with a two week stay in Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene St. John of Arlington Heights. They have lived in Arlington Heights for three years and have two children, Jim, who is serving in the Air Force and Bill, a junior at Arlington High School.

STUDIO OFFERS FREE LESSONS ON ORGAN

ONE HUNDRED FREE COUPONS of instruction on the organ are being offered by the Wilkins School of Music in Mount Prospect. This announcement came from Ray Widlans, director.

THE ILLINOIS REPORT Demand For State To Probe Insurance Firms Fails Again

By United Press International

SPRINGFIELD—The Senate rejected an attempt yesterday to revive a bill calling for a legislative investigation of the insurance industry.

The Alewife Is Back—Pew!

This week, despite high and burning temperatures, motorists driving along the Chicago's lakefront and apartment dwellers on Lake Michigan have kept their windows closed.

The reason is the annual invasion of a troublesome herring, the Alewife. The 1964 harvest crop of the salt water fish that entered the Great Lakes with the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and has a three-year life span and no natural enemies.

Each year the Alewife, a silvery fish about an inch long and rises the waters of Lake Michigan between only one and two inches, Lake Michigan beaches and into the harbors. They cause no health problems, but as Arthur Steward, executive vice president of the Chicago Park District, pointed out, "they just stink that's all."

And There Go Those Boats

SPRINGFIELD—A bill to prohibit motorists from hanging banners on rear view mirrors or attaching them to rear window ledgers passed the Senate unanimously yesterday.

The bill would prohibit the use of state license banners that extend across the width of the car if the banner block vision through the rear window.

The bill now goes to Gov. Kerner for his signature or veto.

No Gas Pens

SPRINGFIELD—A House-passed bill to allow owners to carry gas pumps for protection against auto-thefters held five votes short of passage in the Senate yesterday and was postponed.

Unemployment

Illinois Labor Director John E. Cullerton has announced that the number of persons claiming state unemployment compensation increased during the week of June 10 to 17. The weekly figure was 92,100 persons.

Gun Greets

2 JOLIET—Five patrons of the downtown Western Union office interrupted a holiday night but an armed hold-up, holding the clerk at gunpoint, managed to escape with $10,000 in cash and an undischarged amount of Union money orders and travel checks.

2 The clerk, Miss Joanne Williams, 32, told police she was alone in the office when the bandit, armed with a .45 caliber pistol, entered and demanded money.

As he was rifling the floor safe, police said, the bandit turned to be paid a $100 note and he fled in a car. The car was seen driving away from a work district 10 minutes after the hold-up. The bandit returned to the back of the building and continued to search for money.

Nab Fugitive

2 VIENNA—A tip from two railroad union workers yesterday afternoon led to the capture of a convict who had worked in a prison for a week after a parole hearing.

A group of nine state troopers nabbed Frank Schwab, 34, a convict from the Chicago area about 20 miles north of the prison.

The bill, passed by the House and killed by the Senate executive committee, would have created a legislative commission to study the problems of the public relation to insurance contracts written under state laws.

Sen. William C. Harris (R., Pontiac), asked the Senate to override its executive committee and bring the bill to the floor. Harris motioned, which needed 30 votes, failed on a 17-13 roll.

Sen. Robert R. Green (R., Peoria) said he thought many people would be disappointed that the legislature had not passed 42 "insurance reform" bills. Sen. Arthur R. Gonschak (R., Bloomington) and John W. Gorman (R., Park Ridge) said the investigation was needed.

Sen. Harris said he was not really scandalous because the investigation was needed. Gonschak said, "I think this is the case, the industry does not want to be investigated."

Why does the insurance industry and the director (Harris) fear this as a witch hunt? Carroll said the commission would study some of the bad laws of people because the insurance industry is not doing its job. The Alewife Is Back—Pew!

This week, despite high and burning temperatures, motorists driving along the Chicago's lakefront and apartment dwellers on Lake Michigan have kept their windows closed.

The reason is the annual invasion of a troublesome herring, the Alewife. The 1964 harvest crop of the salt water fish that entered the Great Lakes with the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and has a three-year life span and no natural enemies.

Each year the Alewife, a silvery fish about an inch long and rises the waters of Lake Michigan between only one and two inches, Lake Michigan beaches and into the harbors. They cause no health problems, but as Arthur Steward, executive vice president of the Chicago Park District, pointed out, "they just stink that's all."

Protest Widening Of Golf Road

By Jack Cope

A delegation of citizens banded the Mount Prospect Public Health and Safety Commission Wednesday night to protest the proposed widening of Golf Rd. through Mount Prospect.

The commission, which is being held by the state, would install a six-foot wide with landscaping to prevent any traffic from crossing the highway except at intersections.

"We don't need any more widening in our residential district," said Mrs. George Palumbo, 10 E. Golf. "We don't need any more widening in our residential district."

Frank Krebs, assistant manager of the Arlington Heights Plan Commission, said the proposed widening of Golf Rd. was probably a mistake. He said the proposed widening of Golf Rd. was probably a mistake.

Will Strengthen Department

Village Welcomes Police Aide

BY RICHARD CRABB

A major new force in law enforcement will be added to the Arlington Heights police department next week. Monday, the legal aide will be added to the police department of a town of 50,000 persons will take up his duties in Arlington Heights.

It is expected that the village will become the center of a police department legal aide center which will serve the north Cook County towns of Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove, and Wheeling.

Arlington Heights police chief, L.W. Calderwood, will begin consultations immediately with the heads of police departments in these other suburbs.

The first legal aide for the Arlington Heights police department will be Thomas Kirkpatrick of Peoria, who is being placed here as a legal aide trainee from the law department of Northwestern University.

There are, at present, less than 10 towns in the U.S. with this type of law enforcement official and none with a population of less than 250,000. Chicago is one of the cities whose department is served by a legal aide. He serves as mediator between the officer in the Chicago department.

The police legal aide is regarded as the first major step toward strengthening the police department and the individual policemen in their efforts to cope with the complexities of law enforcement. In a current report, just released by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice, the appointment of a legal aide to the police department is one of the foremost recommendations.

Here are some of the portant duties Kirkpatrick will perform when he takes over his new duties next week.

—Provide day-to-day, even hour-to-hour, legal advice to the police department and in

—In the case of investigations, advise on the exact types of information to be sought, making certain that the information is adequate for preventing a case of valuable department time gathering ineffective information.

—Drawing up of search warrants.

—Legal advice at the command-level of the department, the city attorney and the state attorney.

—Help with the developing of new ordinances in which the police department is involved.

—Write training communications for the police department.

—Lecture in the police academy.

The new opportunities to be available in the Arlington Heights police department and soon to other police departments in the area, were discussed at a conference held Wednesday at the Capital Restaurant. Attending were Chief Calderwood and his associates, Det. Maurice English, Harold A. Sullivan, presiding judge of the Second Cook County Circuit Court, Arlington Heights Village Trustee John Walsh, Prof. James D. Sullivan, Northwestern University law school, Paul A. O'Malley, judge of the Cook County Circuit Court, and James J. Karparkiewicz, of Arlington Heights and Karparkiewicz. The conference began with a luncheon and continued through the afternoon.

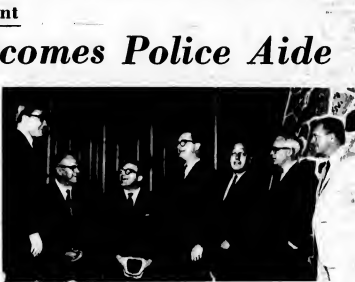

Thompson reported that, until now, the legal aide police department has been provided in training in suburban towns. Arlington Heights has been selected as the first suburban town to provide legal aide training. The university officials expect that a legal aide to a suburban police department can serve a number of purposes, so that the services can be spread over a range of suburban towns.

The plan which Northwestern proposes would station a legal aide trainee in Arlington Heights, with individuals being rotated at intervals of 10 to 15 months.

James J. Karparkiewicz will be stationed in Arlington Heights for three months. After that, he will go to the police department of Outlookers share the results of an attempt by Michael P. Loomis, 32, of 19 N. Dayton, Arlington Heights, to avoid some shocking thoughts in a car on Northwest Hwy. Loomis, strapped to a post and driven a perfect car owned by Robert L. Smith, Mount Prospect, was kept from driving a perfect car owned by Robert L. Smith, Mount Prospect, of this car and near across the street into the house of Tim Slansky, 414 Chestnut. Loomis was given tickets for negligent driving, crossing a double yellow line, and not leaving a vehicle sticker.

Those were the members of the conference held Wednesday to discuss the new services which will be provided to the Arlington Heights police department by the legal aide who will arrive next week. Left to right are Professor James Thompson, Northwestern University law school, L.W. Calderwood, Arlington Heights chief of police; Thomas Kirkpatrick of Peoria, the new legal aide; Paul A. O'Malley, judge of the Second Circuit Court of Cook County; L.A. Hansen, village manager of Arlington Heights; Harold A. Sullivan, presiding judge of the Second Circuit Court of Cook County; and John Walsh, member of the village board of Arlington Heights.

Professor Thompson explained the first training of legal aides began at Northwestern in 1964 after the university had received a grant from the Ford Foundation. The training program requires two years, after the candidates have earned their law degrees.

The first year is spent in study of laws with special emphasis on police departments and law enforcement officials. During this time, the trainee selects a special subject for advanced study upon which he writes a master's degree thesis. The second year is spent in an intern working with a police department just as a medical intern works in a hospital. On completing his 2-year training, the candidate has earned a Master's Degree in law enforcement.

DOCTOR SAYS Win Rifle W. G. WEINSTEIN, M.D.

At one time or another, most boys are fascinated with guns, and the first gun most boys get is a BB gun or air rifle. If your boy gets one of these, you should make sure he learns to handle it properly, teach him to treat it as he would a cartridge rifle, so that he will develop good gun-handling habits from the start. He should never point it at anyone or at any other object he doesn't intend to shoot. Although a stray BB shot probably never killed anyone, it has blinded many an eye. Your son should always make sure the gun barrel and action are clean and free of obstructions. The muzzle should be pointed in a safe direction at all times 1 down range during target practice.

Teach your son never to place his finger on the trigger until he is ready to shoot. If you set up a target range in the basement, be sure he wears eye caps on his face after each session, because stepping on them can cause a fall.

Guns should be unloaded when not in use. When cocking the gun, the muzzle should always be held upward so the shot will be properly fired into the tube. Always complete a full stroke when cocking to prevent double firing of BBs. When proper habits become second nature to your son, you will have eliminated one source of worry.

I hope I can convey the message of my remarks without causing any more family feuds and an impression that I am prejudiced against youth.

First, I am not prejudiced against any segment of the population, nor am I condemning the attitude and philosophy of working with youth today, and it applies to the general population of men. The typical traditional approach working

Keep on Being Human

The graduating class of a high school in Charleston, N.C., heard a word of caution from their parents that might well be passed on to students — and their elders — everywhere.

The danger facing civilization today, according to the graduates, is that it is not in becoming more human, but in man becoming more machine.

The chancellor, if he will forgive an unacademic expression, said a mouthful.

By day, it seems, modern living is becoming more and more mechanized, more impersonal, unapproachable and numb.

It's not only those blinky-blink computers but the trend toward treating human beings as numbers instead of persons. And while this is an extremely efficient idea, it also could be dehumanizing.

No one warm up to someone who calls him by number. It is more tender than to be called "Cousin" or "Cousin."

What Chancellor Conrad was not telling his high school graduates was that people themselves to be so caught up in the special age piece that they forget that they have something no machine can have — humaneness.

How long has it been since a vending machine smiled at you and said, "Happy back?"

If He Did, Maybe We Can

If he did, he could be of inestimable service to his country at a time when a feeling prevails that in Vietnam there isn't any way to get from the battlefield to the peace table.

Maybe the unknown warrior could help solve that one too. Will he step forward, please?

Letters to the Editor An Explanation Of Views on Youth

With youth today is not so much a matter of programming and our concern segments of the population. My remarks differ from yours in that you are speaking with experience with new approaches for involving and providing opportunity for relevant programs.

The reason for this is that most typical youth programs are not meeting the needs of today's youth, as evidenced by the small rate involved. As many other things have changed, so should our approach to youth.

proach to youth programs. I am not speaking with experience with new approaches for involving and providing opportunity for relevant programs.

Unfortunately, space does not allow for a full explanation of this and with regard if it does not fully convey the implications.

These tempting sundaes to perk up summer ice cream sundaes are Marshmallows, Peanut Butter and Trail mix.

Make an Ice Cream Sundae

Sauces for Everybody's Favorite

BY MARILYN HELPERS

What's the favorite dessert for a hot day? The answer is ice cream. Around the house, no matter what the temperature is outside. In fact, we eat it anytime of the day.

What's even better than ice cream—An ice cream sundae. Of course, here's a tempting idea of topping for your delish sundae that will appeal to all ages.

Teen-agers like their sundaes covered with sauce and piled high with nuts. To cater to that taste for the levels ice cream dishes, here's a thick, fluffy Marshmallow Sauce guaranteed to turn plain chocolate ice cream into a "gooey" sundae. Cut up or miniature marshmallows are melted into a sugar-water and corn syrup mixture to make a tasty sauce. It can be varied by adding peppermint extract and a few drops of green food coloring; then it's Marshmallow Man Sundae.

YOUNGSTERS love peanut butter, and that's the main ingredient in Peanut Butter Ice Cream Sundae. Just add a sugar syrup to peanut butter, heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils, while beating at medium speed. The kids will love it, especially on chocolate ice cream. It tastes like a chocolate sauce, and it's easy to make.

Our third sauce, Frying Sauce, will appeal to growing ice cream fans. Smooth, creamy, evaporated milk is added to a blend of sugar and corn syrup, stirred with pecan suet in butter. A dash of vanilla is just the right flavor accent. Serve Frying Sauce warm or chilled, over vanilla ice cream.

FRUITS are a favorite. 1/4 cup (1/4-cup) butter, 2/4 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup finely peeled light brown sugar.

2 tablespoons light corn syrup.

1/2-cup evaporated milk. 1/2-cup vanilla. In saucepan melt butter; add pecans and sauce until lightly toasted. Add sugar and corn syrup; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and sugar is melted. Gradually add evaporated milk. Remove from heat; blend in vanilla. Yield: 2 cups.

MARSHMALLOW SAUCE.

1/2-cup sugar, 1/4-cup water, 1/4-cup light corn syrup, 1/2 cup miniature marshmallows, 2 egg whites. In saucepan combine sugar, water and corn syrup. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add marshmallows and stir until marshmallows melt. In small mixing bowl beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Continue to beat while gradually adding hot syrup. Chill. If sugar separates, mix until smooth.

MARSHMALLOW MINT SAUCE. After syrup has been added to egg whites, beat in 1/8 teaspoon peppermint extract and a few drops of green food coloring.

PEANUT BUTTER ICE CREAM SAUCE.

1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup light corn syrup, 1/4 cup peanut butter. In saucepan combine sugar, water and corn syrup. Bring to boil and cook over low heat until 230-degrees F. is reached on candy thermometer.

Remove from heat; cool without stirring to 100-degrees F. on candy thermometer. Place peanut butter in small mixing bowl; gradually add syrup while beating at medium speed. Serve as a topping for chocolate ice cream. If sauce is refrigerated, warm to room temperature before serving.

Renew Bus Contract

School Dist. 29 unanimously adopted a resolution authorizing the Davidweaver Bus Company a three-year contract with the current contract expiring next summer.

"We're extremely happy with Davidweaver," said Superintendent Donald Thomas in explaining the agreement to board members.

Currently, 14 buses are used to transport children to and from school. Louis C. Garabito, the district's transportation director, told the board that parents who have signed up for the "pay bus" Dist. 29 is offering in September to students living between 4 and 13 miles from school have been responding to the offer slowly. He estimated that he has about 50 signatures so far.

However, board member Frank Dillon questioned the distribution of pay bus information in Orest of the Riders, saying some parents have not received the information. He thought that the number of pay bus riders might increase as parents receive additional information.

The per capita cost per day for transportation of Dist. 29 students is 18 cents, second lowest in the area. Records show that district buses travel approximately 215,000 miles annually.

Garabito said that Schumberg (Dist. 34) costs 14 cents per day per capita because the district shares buses with High School Dist. 211 (Palatine-Schaumburg).

These buses travel 466,000 miles per year. Board members explained that Elk Grove Dist. 59 milage is high because of the district policy of transporting children living in areas considered "unsafe."

In Wheeling (Dist. 21) and in Arlington Heights (Dist. 25), they have children walking down highways to school, said one board member.

Comments raised by Douglas S. Burns, Des Plaines, before the contract approval dealt with a clause in the contract permitting the Davidweaver Co. to park buses on school property.

"They don't now," said Garabito, "and I doubt they will ever have to. They just want that clause in there to protect themselves."

Dist. 59 schools in Mount Prospect are John Jay Elementary, Forest View Elementary, Robert Frost, Dempster Junior High School, and Oliver Wendell Holmes Middle School. The district includes Juliette Louis School in Arlington Heights and other buildings in Des Plaines and Elk Grove Village.

For Friday

CANCER (June 22-July 21) - Early hours are no time to let your impulses rule your actions. Ambitions can be well satisfied during afternoon.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) - Avoid all argument this morning, especially on the home front. This is not the time to risk personal relationships for personal pride.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) - It would be easy for you to be caught off guard this morning - but if you remain alert the danger of setback should pass over quickly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) - Avoid pushing either your products or yourself on others today. Let modesty guide your actions and you should know success by evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) - Conflicting tendencies demand that you employ patience and tact above everything else. Personal ambitions must be set aside.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) - Be circumspect when it comes to relating what you know. Remember: the secret you tell is secret no longer.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) - Progress could be set in to reverse if you are unable enough to get into argument with co-workers. Keep the peace.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) - The mercurial Aquarius should be able to keep to a planned schedule of activities today regardless of incentives to do otherwise.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 21) - Your impulses, if followed, could do you more harm than good this morning. By afternoon all risky tendencies should be passed.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) - It takes an exceptionally level head to make the right decisions this morning. Don't be swayed by anything but facts and figures.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) - Take care not to speak out of turn or to sugar today. It is the kind and friendly word that will carry you farthest.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) - An excellent afternoon for all personal affairs. Don't let the morning pass, however, without making at least one overdue decision.

A Bus Full of Laughs

Report on a Trip to New York

Renée Johnston is president of her class at Sacred Heart of Mary High School and works in the circulation department of The Day. This is one of two stories she has written about a trip she and other students of the school took to New York.

BY RENEE JOHNSTON

Under a somewhat cloudy sky, the troop of 156 Sacred Heart of Mary boarded their buses. The four buses headed eastward and over the Chicago Skyway, the Indiana Tollway, and the Ohio Turnpike.

After two hours of bus riding, the girls arrived at Notre Dame University, South Bend, at 10:30 a.m. During the hour and a half stop, they wandered about the campus. The library and its huge murals, the golden dome, the cathedral, and the chemistry buildings were the main points of interest.

Mary Jo Keeney, of Arlington Heights, and Mary Kinney, of Des Plaines, decided to join the Notre Dame student body, if not physically at least in spirit. When the girls were finally loaded, both were sporting Notre Dame "I" shirts.

Sue Barnes, of Arlington Heights, decided to get a silver chain to remind her of her visit.

THE DINNER stop was taken in Loran, Ohio, at a shopping center. The meal was served cafeteria style and since this was the first meal which the four company was buying all of the girls "dined up."

Dinner or promises to diet were forgotten as cheese cake, pie, and the day's special "newberry shortcake" at 15 cents were piled high on everyone's plate.

Cathy Bourrel (Rolling Meadows) decided that all this "fine" food was too good to skip up, so she took an extra piece of chocolate cake. She carefully wrapped it in a napkin, and saved it for Sunday's breakfast.

AFTER DINNER and a short hour jog along the Ohio turnpike, all four of the jolly bus drivers moved the exit and had to travel 15 miles too far east and then return to the proper exit, only after they had paid a double toll.

Bed time was made at 10 p.m., after several bottles of pop, plenty of ice, and other snacks had been snatched away. They were fairly sleepy the first night with only a few quiet parties. Most of them had some enough to go to bed early since the buses were scheduled to roll onward at 6 a.m.

ONE OF THE rumors (which spread the wild fire through the halls and over the room phones) concerned Arlington Heights. The rumor was that Arlington Heights had three feet of rain and everyone was out in a sea of mud. No one knew if it was true, but some claims to have heard the news over the radio.

THE TELEPHONE rang morning at 5:15. By 6 a.m. groups of sleepy-eyed girls boarded the buses and under a huge red sun on the horizon, the buses entered Pennsylvania.

The first three hours of travel before the breakfast stop were quiet as most of the girls caught up on their sleep. From a pool taken, the average was three hours of sleep per girl. For the few girls who had some enough to get some sleep the night before, the scenery along the turnpike offered open pit coal mines, coal loading bins and shafts, mountain trails, and copper-colored streams running across outcrops.

After stopping in the Allegheny Mountains for breakfast the bus came alive with a new supply of comic books, movie magazines, and Sunday papers.

MANY OF the girls found the Pennsylvania Dutch farms fascinating and enjoyed looking for the best meats and the best to eat. A good part of the travel time was spent looking for Amish settlements and

Rising Cost Of Living An Old Story

Diggers into ancient ruins tell us they learn more about our ancestors from humble household utensils than from grandiose monuments.

In the same way, today's suburbanite gets a clearer picture of early Northwest area settlers from such relics as a wooden table, letters, ironware, and dieries.

Some days of living costs in 1838 can be gleaned from the letters and accounts book of the Paines Sherratt family who settled near the Des Plaines river and Higgins Rd. The New Wood Park public library now owns the documents.

HERE ARE some prices: One pair of buckskin mittens is entered at $1.25; pondstone cloth cost $1.06 1/2 - half a cent is shown to be faithfully recorded.

To make the pondstone cost 50 cents. A one-pound tin of tobacco could be purchased for the same amount of cash as a half bushel of potatoes.

Today's budget-conscious housewife, here is a mark to shoot for. For the period between May 31 and June 27, 1838, the Sherratt family lived on $14.

First Aid For Lawns Made Easier

An American tourist admiring the lush lawns of an English estate is reputed to have asked the owner: "What did it take to get such a lovely lawn?"

"Mudm," the owner replied, "it took 400 years."

That's the feeling homeowners sometimes had as they weeded, weeded, mowed and raked their lawns, and spent tiring hours tending their gardens. But today's new lawn and garden equipment is helping homeowners beautify their grounds with a minimum of time and effort.

Homeowners are going in for gardening in a big way, and that they're depending on modern lawn and garden products to take the groan out of growing. The sale of power mowers, for example, is steadily increasing, with an estimated 25 million already in use.

Building supply centers that stock lawn and garden lines report expanding business in these categories. Many that started with equipment supplies—mowers, weepers, lawn carts and spreaders, now feature full-scale departments that include barbecue units and tools, outdoor furniture and fireplaces, picnic tables, patio blocks and fencing.

But, the most noticeable trend is toward power equipment that does a variety of gardening chores easily and efficiently. Among these are power mowers that cut, trim and bag clippings, tractor-type mowers that can also be used as graders and snow removers, and power rakes. With all such equipment, manufacturers are stressing built-in safety features.

Professionalism Can Not Be Beaten

BY JACK KEMMERLY
Kemmerly Real Estate

JACK KEMMERLY

This time of the year many people say that it is so easy to sell their homes. Many people find that it is easier said than done. Many times a seller goes through many difficult hours with someone who has agreed to buy their home only to find that the buyer does not have the qualifications that make up the requirements for a successful purchase.

Realtors have the facilities, know how, connections, ability and diplomacy to successfully bring seller and buyer together in a workable arrangement where everyone is in complete agreement. A realtor will diplomatically ask the buyer what his down payment is, occupancy date he wishes, current income, style of home required, and of course how much he is willing to pay.

Many sellers find the above very difficult to obtain from the buyer, than many impossible sales occur through mishandling by the seller. Realtors, by law, have an escrow account in which to hold the purchaser's money in abeyance until the deed is passed. Purchasers like this feature. After all, the safe-keeping of their funds is very important to them.

The Realtor's salespeople are experienced in knowing how much house a buyer can purchase and qualify for mortgage wise, so when they sell a home they know it will stay sold and the transaction will not fall apart due to disqualification on the purchaser's part.

Loan procedures with most mortgage companies are on the first name basis with Realtors. This definitely helps the seller in the processing of his sale with the Realtor's buyer. Purchasers many times have not sold their homes in a distant area. The individual real estate salesman at this end has all the tools available to coordinate a trouble free move from one area to another through the cooperation with Realtors in a distant community.

Truly, a professional in real estate is the only person who can successfully bring buyer and seller together. As in baseball, the professional really gets the ball rolling.

To Save a Lawn

Roofs Need 'Screen'

Homeowners fighting the crabgrass war should realize that lawn fertilizers only make the problem worse, one crop scientist says.

C. M. Harrison of Michigan State University said: "Crabgrass likes good soil and has to have sun. Fertilizer meant for the lawn is just the addition to make crabgrass grow faster."

He suggested a line of grates called fences as the best crabgrass enemy and lawn saver.

Roofs, like people, can get a bad case of sunburn if not properly protected. Too much sunlight can dry up and wear out a roof.

An excellent protection against roof sunburn is the rock-hard mineral granite coating that forms the surface of asphalt shingles. The opaque granules screen out excessive sunlight and keep the natural asphalt oils from drying out just as sun tan lotion screens out ultra-violet sun rays to protect the human skin.

Choose Flowers for Color and Size

Put color dramatically to work for more attractive home grounds this year. Selection and planning are the keys to more beautiful flower beds and borders.

Choose straight colors for group plantings. It is more artistic and effective to put blades of color, rather than spotted effects.

Another good point, of course, seems obvious. Some people forget that the seed package shows the height of the plants. Be sure that you have the low ones in the foreground and the medium height in the middle and the tall ones in the background. Another point is the tremendously effective use of white in any garden. We may like our reds and all our other colors, but you must have white to bring out the other colors.

If you have small space and you want to use a variety of plants, here are some examples of plants that can be used. Pick taller plants for the background, something like Polyanthus zinnia or a blue salvia, some of the tall marigolds such as Cracker Jack, or Cleome for background. They are all tall.

Then for the middle, choose some medium-size plants such as petunias, or pinks. Peppermint pinks are excellent. They're very widely adapted. You could go into verbena, or some of the medium height marigolds.

In the foreground you definitely want shorter plants such as alyssum, portulaca, pansies or violas.

That gives you a good start for planting your garden. When you're planting this year, pick the seeds and the plants that are going to give you the dramatic effect and are going to look best in a well-designed garden.

Ready-Mixed Work Saver

You can mix your own concrete from a portland cement, sand, gravel and water, or you can buy the dry ingredients premixed and just add water.

Or you can buy ready-mixed concrete and eliminate all that work of mixing. You just pick up a phone and place an order.

But using ready-mixed concrete has its own problems—not great ones, to be sure, but matters important to a good job.

YOU HAVE TO know how much concrete is needed, when it will be delivered, how closely it can be delivered to the job area. You will need extra help and enough tools on hand when it arrives, for there is no waiting around with concrete.

Concrete is sold by the cubic yard and most ready-mix companies will deliver one cubic yard or more. If you need less, mix your own.

There are charts for finding the proper amount of concrete. Just remember that it is in cubic yards—figure the volume by multiplying length, width and thickness in feet or fractions of feet and divide by 27.

HOW THICK should it be? For a patio or walk, three to four inches should be enough. Make a driveway at least six inches thick.

Ready-mix companies cannot run out with an order the day you call. Order in advance. If it is a small order—four cubic yards or less—give plenty of notice, since the company combines such orders to make a full load.

Clear a path so that the driver can get as close as possible to the work area. If he can't get to the form, you will have to haul the concrete in a wheelbarrow the additional distance. This is time-consuming and back-breaking work and cost extra for holding up the truck.

Use 2 x 12 planks over your drive if you think the truck may be too heavy for it, or over your lawn (if it is necessary to go that way), but the lawn must be dry.

If there is a septic tank or oil tank buried in the area, avoid driving over that spot.

Concrete starts to harden as soon as it's poured. You could probably handle it yourself when you mix your own a bag at a time, but for large amounts, have at least one person to help.

HAVE ALL THE necessary tools—shovels, rakes, wheelbarrow, strickoff board, floats and trowel.

If you fill the form from the furthest end and keep pouring fresh concrete into the end of the stuff already poured, you will cut handling to the minimum.

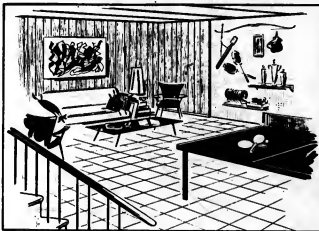

Ready-mixed cement makes the job easier.

Forms should be in and finished before the truck arrives. Use 2 x 3s set on edge and held with stakes. Use motor oil on the form so the concrete will not stick.

Once the ready-mixed is poured, the finishing is the same as if you had mixed your own.

Except that you won't be nearly as tired.

Remodeling the basement into a family room is a worthwhile do-it-yourself project that pays off in increased living space. Prefinished hardboard paneling makes a good-looking wall covering that takes hard use and minimal care. Perforated hardboard can be used to turn one wall into a storage or display center.

Farmington On Long Grove Road is located in Kildeer and adjoins the village of Long Grove, Palatine and Barrington are nearby.

"FARMINGTON", says Arthur T. McIntosh, Jr., President of the sixty year old firm, "is one of the most picturesque properties in the Chicago area. Its natural beauty is sufficiently diversified to offer just about any kind of homesite a family may want; heavily forested, partially wooded, high plateau or lake frontage. Its development has been carefully planned to accentuate the attractiveness of each type of site. It is one of the few remaining, well-located areas in the Chicago suburbs where such interesting property is available for big homesites. In addition to the century old trees and the hills and dales, are two lovely little blue water lakes."

In Farmington, one acre is minimum, with many two acre and larger sites also being offered. Blacktopped roads wind throughout the community. Its generous size, coupled with prudent building restrictions, assure a permanently protected future for the home owner.

THE CHARMING village of Long Grove, which adjoins Farmington, is an antique center well known to collectors throughout the Midwest. Excellent churches, schools and shopping facilities are in close proximity. Chicago's Loop is only 40 minutes away via expressways and fast, frequent, air-conditioned commuter trains. Outstanding golf and horse back riding facilities are nearby.

The entrance to Farmington is on Rand Rd. (Route 12) three miles north of the intersection of Route 53, where the offices of Arthur T. McIntosh & Co. are open daily, ten a.m. to six p.m.

Expand Space with a Family Room

If your family has grown too big for your home, don't sell the house, add a family room.

Building — or finding — a family room is not difficult, and it does not mean to take the squeeze out of an overcrowded house.

A basement that is now a maze of water pipes and disorganized storage can be transformed into an attractive, functional family room with a little imagination and the right building materials. Or, you may want to finish that unsightly attic or close in a little-used porch or breezeway and turn that into a family center.

SINCE A family room takes lots of hard use, the materials in it must be sturdy. The room should also be cheerful, comfortable and easy to clean. One way to achieve these requirements is with tough, versatile hardboard paneling.

Hardboard paneling comes in standard 4-by-8-foot panels that are installed over furring strips with nails or waterproof adhesive. Prefinished surfaces — in wood-grains, textures, patterns and colors — require no painting and can be dampwaxed clean. There are also sturdy natural hardboard panels that come ready to paint.

To get the project started, see your lumber dealer, builder or remodeling contractor. For additional information on this and other home remodeling projects, send ten cents to S&A, Dept. HP, Box 3498, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Automatic Clothes Drying Better Than Traditional Line-in-the-Sun

Summer is a great time for drying clothes in the sunshine. Right? Wrong!

What about the time it rained for three solid days—and for three days everything you had hanging in the basement stayed wet?

Remember when your husband came home from the office after dark and, while walking in from the garage, nearly hanged himself on a clothesline left up in the yard?

What about all your colored clothes that have been faded by that glorious sunshine?

None of these things will happen when you have a clothes dryer. According to the Maytag Home Laundry center, a dryer actually does a better job than the sun. There are several reasons:

Clothes come out of the dryer brighter because they have been dried away from the sun and bluffer, because they have been tumble-dried.

Much of today's sportswear—both for children and adults—is permanent press. You'll need a dryer to keep it looking freshly ironed all summer. Permanent press simply does not work as well when line-dried.

A real time-saver, a dryer will dry clothes in an hour or less, depending on size and make-up of the load. On some days, the same clothes might take all day on the line.

Convenient. With a dryer you can launder any time—even at night, if you like.

Summer, and any time of year, is a great time for drying clothes. That is, if you dry them in an automatic clothes dryer.

No matter what kind of weather you are when you look out the window this summer, drying will be no problem with a dryer. Summer showers will not delay, nor summer sun fade your hopes of finishing your appointed laundry rounds.

Floor-to-Ceiling Book Shelves

Hundreds of books weighing hundreds of pounds are stored on this home library wall by a new system which eliminates vertical standards. Shelves simply are placed on brackets which fit into slots in the woodgrained hardboard panels in the Living Wall system. This and many others, the Goldline brackets are scarcely visible under the loaded shelves. Floor-to-ceiling book shelves are thus easily and attractively created in a room. In this installation, shelves were placed close together to show the load-bearing strength. In most homes, space would be allowed between shelves so that the handsome woodgrained paneling would show through. Panels and accessories are available at lumber and building materials dealers who handle products of Masonite Corporation.

For families that love books and like to display them as a part of the room decor, a new concept in decorative walls has been developed by Masonite Corp. research.

Royalco Living Wall combines attractive woodgrained paneling with a system of shelves supported by brackets that fit into inconspicuous slots in the panels.

The system assures a handsome background wall, strong enough to support any load of books, plus the appearance of "floating" shelves. Since the bracket support is unseen, lightweight metal standards, which many homemakers hesitate to use, are eliminated.

Shelves may be moved as required, due to the flexibility of the system. The prefinished Satin Walnut shelves come in five popular sizes. Accessories include Sandtone Gold metal shelf brackets that fit slots and Living Wall picture hooks for hanging various picture arrangements and art objects without marring the surface of the panel.

Living Wall panels are available in three popular woodgrains — Sable Walnut, Honeytone Cherry and Teak. Panels and accessories are available at lumber and building materials stores.

THE ILLINOIS REPORT

Kerner Rejects GOP Tax Package

By United Press International

SPRINGFIELD — Gov. Otto Kerner rejected the Republican counterproposal for tax revision today. Senate Republican Leader W. Russell Harrison said Kerner tossed thumbs down to "pretty much" the whole G.O.P. proposal.

The governor is proposing a 1 per cent corporate franchise tax, an Arlington said Kerner would have to increase the tax to 1 1/2 per cent to meet the needs of the state.

The present corporate franchise tax is 1/20th of 1 per cent. Republicans proposed to balance the state's budget by modifying Kerner's plan to extend the sales tax to services, by cutting spending and by levying higher taxes on gasoline, cigarettes and utilities.

"The governor was agreeable to the 1 cent cigarette tax increase, but he objected and refused the 1 cent gas tax increase, although it was the only one that would have been paid on," Harrison said.

Arlington said Kerner wanted $21 million removed from the mental health budget. About twice that amount was cut by the House.

BY JACK COPE

"It's a free country," said James Stavros, Whelan Trust Democratic committee chairman yesterday after being informed of the intention of Herman Kernen, Arlington Heights politician, to form an independent Democratic group.

Stavros, long a controversial figure, told The Day he has no fear of splintering groups within the party. "If they want to form their own organization, that's all right with me," he said.

Stavros, who designated himself as an "out" party, said that he felt that perhaps the formation of a Kernen faction would revive interest in township politics. "I think people who are interested in politics should take it up. I don't have anything to fear," Stavros said.

"No one who is cheerful in his own organization," said the Whelan Trust chairman, "is not actually going outside the party, but rather, creating an organization of people who are interested in politics."

possible successor to Stavros. "I am distressed about this," Norman said. "I believe there is room within the present organization for disagreement. Norman and Lee (Mrs. Kernen) are both excellent party workers and should remain in the party."

Lee Kernen was secretary to Stavros for some time.

Stavros, who was not actually going outside the party, but rather, creating an organization of people who are interested in politics, said that he felt that perhaps the formation of a Kernen faction would revive interest in township politics.

4 GOP Bills Heading For Veto

SPRINGFIELD — Four Republican reform bills that originated in the House passed the Senate as party line votes yesterday on their way to almost certain veto by Gov. Kerner.

The four bills would remove the state's congressional districts to Cook County and one downtown.

The committee and floor votes on the bills have been party line every time, and there has been no effort by the G.O.P. to make the bills acceptable to Democrats.

The Senate passed unanimously a House State Police pay raise bill similar to a Senate bill passed by both houses.

The Senate rejected a House amendment to a bill which would call for 300 more state policemen, and that bill will go to a House-Senate conference committee for compromise.

The House amendment would authorize another 100 state policemen if another bill is passed and signed that would increase the state's police force.

Little Weston Doubles Size

WESTON—This tiny community, which is the site of the nation's largest atomic reactor, more than doubled in size last night.

The six-man village board of trustees and Board President Arthur Theriault, voted to annex two adjacent farms—12.2 acres into the village's present 114 acres.

"This will insure our existence," said Theriault. "Prior to this annexation the village of Weston could have virtually died."

Plans for the $200 million atom smelter, as envisioned by the AEC, called for the 200-million-electron volt (BEV) accelerator to cover most of the village.

Open Housing Bill Gains

SPRINGFIELD—Sen. Paul Simon (D-Ill.) said yesterday he was within three or four votes of Senate support for an "open housing" proposal patterned after a new Maryland law.

The proposal would outlaw racial discrimination in the housing built after Jan. 1, 1965, and the only barrier would be housing loans and home owning and renting.

It would apply to all other housing built next year and thereafter including owner-occupied housing and single-family dwellings.

Elk Grove Village Blackout Slows The Day

Most of Elk Grove Village was without power for 35 minutes this morning after a 12,000 volt feeder line at the Centex Industrial Center was accidentally shorted out by workmen on the roof of Central Warehouse, 2301 E. Tenth.

The workmen, who were repairing a section of the metal roof coping, discarded what put State Police in charge of a proposed annexation of Weston.

A bill to raise the legal age for women from 18 to 21 passed, 37-5, over objections that the bill would lower the legal age of men from 21 to 18 instead.

The Senate passed, for the second time, a bill to authorize the use of mental health funds to help financially retarded children awaiting admission to the state.

The bill had been recalled and amended to make it more acceptable to the House.

Phony State Checks Turn Up

SPRINGFIELD—State Auditor Michael J. Howitt has found about 100 state policemen if another bill is passed and signed that would increase the state's police force.

Howitt said some of the phony state checks spotted state treasurer Arthur E. Stevenson III's name wrong, but he had no way of knowing.

"All legitimate state warrants are processed through the state treasurer's office," Howitt said.

Secret Meeting Bill Stalled

SPRINGFIELD—A bill to strengthen the law against secret meetings by public bodies failed to pass the House.

The bill had passed the House, but fell four votes short in the Senate.

Sen. Paul Simon (D-Ill.) proposed the Senate vote to keep alive.

But a short time later, Senate G.O.P. Leader W. Russell Harrison (D-Ill.) announced that he had not voted for the measure.

Harrison said he would be moving to the bottom of the Senate calendar. And, he said, he didn't know whether they would be called for a vote again.

New Grounds

SPRINGFIELD—A Senate bill to allow divorce on the grounds of mental illness passed the House, 123-36, Thursday and was sent to the governor.

Park District Eyes Support for New Site Development

The Arlington Heights Park District Tuesday will kick off its campaign for a new site for development of 13 park acres.

As a first attempt to obtain the property's reaction, the Board of Commissioners has scheduled an 8 p.m. meeting Monday, June 26. They will probably propose in August preliminary planning for about $24,000.

MANY OF the village's home owners associations, government officials and special interest groups have expressed interest.

"We have classified the neighborhood parks and the other community parks."

The proposed referendum will be a general obligation bond.

Postmaster Gets a Letter

A man who gets his mail by rural delivery has written a letter to Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien and is hoping the Post Office Department knows how to reach O'Brien, since this rural mail pattern, as the Post Office Department has nicknamed him, is real anxious for O'Brien to get the letter, which goes as follows:

Dear Mr. O'Brien:
Knowing of your desire to improve the postal service and enhance the image of the U.S. Post Office Department, and content therefore that you have your finger on major changes in the service, I am assuming you are aware that the post office in my town has changed my rural mailbox number from 308 to 538.

As you also probably know, my wife and I did not request this change, since we were happy with the old number, which was 308. I did not request this change, since we were happy with the old number, which was 308. I did not request this change, since we were happy with the old number, which was 308.

We are, in fact, somewhat perplexed by the change, since we are still living in the same rural house in the same rural location and using the same rural mailbox that used to be known as No. 308.

We do, however, appreciate your thoughtfulness and generosity in giving us all these little cards to fill in and mail out to friends, relatives, admirers, creditors, stores, newspapers, magazines, book-of-the-month clubs, mail order outfits, and others from whom we hopefully and hopefully expect to get mail, may know of this change that has come into our lives.

(When you live rural, Mr. Postmaster General, a thing like this is a pretty big deal.)

But in the upper right-hand corner of each of these little cards — which we are spending quite a lot of time filling out, one after another — is a little square, in which you may know. And in this little square is an empty space for a message. It is a pretty big deal.

Believe me, Mr. Postmaster General, this would really enhance — well, at least improve — the Post Office's image with us. What do you say?

Anxiously yours,
Rural Post Patron No. 538
P.S. — As you understand, in our NEW number, the old number that we knew by heart was 308. Please be sure to use the new and correct number, as I intend to take quite awhile to get our mail out there, with any number.

— "Beligious Note" — The Church of the Holy Spirit in Houston, Tex., announced in a recent bulletin, "due to lack of response, next Thursday will be cancelled."

Dist. 59 Student Book Fees Set

Dist. 59 board members Monday decided to keep the student book fees at their present level, despite an objection by Board President Richard Hen.

Currently (and for September) fees are $10 in kindergarten (not include milk); $10 in grades 1-5 plus $1.00 for books and materials; $10 in grades 6-8 for books and materials plus a $2.00 fee.

Deal enrollment students in Grove Junior High School and Queen of the Rosary will pay $5 for books and materials for academic classes and $2.00 fee.

All junior high school students pay extra for materials used for special projects in industrial arts and home economics.

Families with more than three children attending Dist. 59 schools pay a maximum of three fees.

ASSISTANT Superintendent of Finance William Mann told the board that two local school boards from distributing list-books to students without charge unless a special exemption is voted. Voters in Dist. 59 have been asked to approve such a referendum.

Hen, who called the district book fees "one of the highest in the area," said he'd like to eliminate the practice of having teachers send home lists of supplies to be purchased by students—such things as glue, paint, etc.

Superintendent Donald Thorne told Hen that he should not be sent home and added that he plans to instruct teachers and principals about the practice in a late summer memorandum.

Surrounding district book fees, Dist. 59 (Mount Prospect) kindergarten, $7.50, mg. fee, $1; first grade, $8.50; grades 2-8, $9.50. Textbook fees were raised this year.

DIST. 25 (Arlington Heights) kindergarten, $4.50, textbooks and supplies, mg. fee, $4.50; grades 1-2, $8; grades 3-5, $8.50; grades 6-8, $9.

DIST. 54 (Hoffman Estates-Schaumburg), grade

1-8, $7.50, which includes supplies Junior high students pay, mg. fee, $1.75; Milk and insurance fees are separate.

DIST. 62 (Des Plaines) kindergarten, $3.50 includes art supplies and textbooks; grades 1-8, $8.50 includes textbook rental, purchase of workbooks, and basic art supplies. A supply of supplies is kept in each classroom but not one for each child.

Locker, towels, insurance and milk require separate fees.

Start Work On Our Redeemer Addition

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the addition to Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Prospect Heights will be held Sunday, at 10:30 a.m. at the church.

Raymond Kietisch, Assistant Superintendent of the Sunday school, will turn the first shovel of dirt. Paul Francis, chairman of the Steering Committee, Donald Hinkins and Pastor of the church, Rev. Herman Noll, will turn the following shovelful of dirt.

The proposed addition will add classrooms for an increased Sunday School enrollment, a large fellowship hall and other improvements to aid the growing church.

Break Ground For New Episcopal Center

The Rt. Rev. Gerald Francis, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago, will officiate at ground-breaking ceremonies Sunday for the new $1,600,000 Episcopal Center and Cathedral House to be built at the southwest corner of Rush and Huron Streets in Chicago. The ceremonies will be held following the 11:00 a.m. service of Holy Communion in the Cathedral of St. James.

The new six-story building will replace the 55-year-old diocesan headquarters building at 65 E. Huron Street and the 75-year-old Cathedral House at 656 N. Rush Street, which have been razed.

The BUILDING, with a landscaped plaza, is across the street from the National Headquarters of the PTX and the American Library Association building. It has been designed by the architects, Hammond and Renshaw, not only to provide adequate space for the administrative and program activities of the Diocese and the Cathedral, but to take advantage of the site and its proximity to the 135-year-old Cathedral.

The 52-foot glass on Huron Street, will provide a view from Michigan Avenue of the Cathedral's east facade and distinctive belfry. The glass will also "take a little air" into the domed bell tower.

The building's modern design, with an exterior of bronze-lined glass and aluminum, has been a real surprise to many who thought the Cathedral's massive architecture would be replaced by a more traditional design.

The building's 38,000 square feet of space will be air-conditioned and offices will be located on the first and second floors, and the rest of the building will be used for administrative and program activities.

The summer Sunday Church school schedule has been announced by John Hansen, chairman of the Christian Education Committee for Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Sunday Church school will be held during the 9:30 morning service only from July 2 through Labor Day weekend. Children will assemble in church with adults until the hymn prior to the sermon and then move to another part of the building for a special half hour program.

DURING THE program, the emphasis will be two-fold, including music and hymns of the Christian church and illustrated contemporary Christian stories.

Short Clips for Carefree Days

BY BETTY AINSIE

Happinesses for summer hair beauty in a carefree hair style. A short haircut is one of the best ways to cope with hair, wet from swimming and dried by sun.

Today's fashion action seems at the top of the head and women can choose a pretty, uncomplicated look that is becoming. A short style will keep you cool and ideally won't need to be set. The secret is in the cutting.

An expert shaping holds in the crown when wet and will dry out looking as good as it did before. A good cut is well worth the extra money you may have to pay in saving time and upkeep.

JUNE is a fine month to get a new summer hair style.

and if you get a cut early in the season you will have less trouble with dry split ends. After the first good cut you'll find that a sheering every four weeks is all you need.

Here are two particular short hair styles. The first is a layered short cut with a high crown and close cropped bangs. After a swim this style can easily be brushed back into shape. If you prefer to have your hair waving in a medium length, you may want to try a short cut with a slightly restricted line. You can comb it dry in an instant to control its beautiful shape.

NO MATTER which style you do choose to wear just remember hair, sun, wind and humidity can cause damage to your hair—no counterfeit them here are some hair beauty can tip:

1. Although fresh air is good for the scalp and hair, the sun robs both of oils. So take the sun in small doses and remember that bleached hair should be covered.

2. For beauty's sake wear a bathing cap. Salt water, chlorinated water and sometimes even fresh water wear a sticky film on hair which makes it difficult to manage. If you do swim without a cap shampoo your hair as soon as possible afterwards.

3. To let your hair blow in the summer breeze is a lovely sightseeing feat but hair can become dry and brittle from weathering to watch it keep hair under cover on a windy beach—

The medium length blunt cut with a scalloped line can be dried by combing back into shape. Hair style by Paul Mitchell of Henri Bendel.

Pop-Up Beds; Other Space Savers

More new things shown this week at the Summer International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago and available in the Fall to everyone, include Pop-Up beds. A new idea in convenience, adapting an idea borrowed from the automatic toaster.

These new trundle beds by the Kopp Furniture Co. have a spring apparatus which gives them self-lifting ability. When the mechanism is released, the bed needs only a slight pull and it pops up level with its top mattress.

Working well in cramped quarters, Kopp's new Pop-Up beds are available in two models. A single bed convertible for side by side sleeping and a two level bunk bed which increases to three sleeping spots.

The beds are shown in paint, spindle or wagon wheel head and footboards and in five finishes.

DESIGNER C.R. Duncan designed compact storage units to give a new look to bedrooms for Stanley Furniture Company and show a new convertible sofa with models for the most formal living rooms or the most casual family rooms.

ENGLANDER has developed a new sofa bed called "Open Ease." A bed sofa easy to operate, soft to sit on and just right for sleep; with room for bed linen which can remain in place while the bed is being used as a sofa.

They are also offering the "Swisscheese" a new idea in Hollywood beds with a choice of five different headboards and new mattress tickings. There are bamboo carved headboards, traditional spindle designs and two American Model—panoramas of the Yankee Clipper and the American Eagle, complete with U. S. flag. Tickings are in ivory blue, denim, trimmed in red, or green and white, wavy stripes or Mod floral.

PENNSYLVANIA House is offering a 45-piece collection of pine called Crown Keys which is a blend of country and city sophistication, and a new upholstered grouping covering everything from Queen Anne to Colonial.

A new bedroom grouping is being added to a 20 piece series of birch stacking units with Colonial lines called "Topping Towers."

Look around this hall for these new items at your local furniture store and help yourself to convenience, beauty and smartness.

You can add an extra bed painlessly with the new Pop-Up trundle made by Kopp Furniture and being shown at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago this week. Press a spring mechanism and up pops your third bed providing instant extra sleeping space.

Newman Twirls 5-Hitter American Legion 9 Blanks River Grove

A driving River Grove runner studies Mark Newman's pitch - off attempt in yesterday's American Legion baseball clash at Arlington Heights. All but one of River Grove's base runners elected to abort in the first three innings last night, as Newman got stronger and stronger as the night wore on.

BY DALE ROHMANN

ARLINGTON's spotty American Legion baseball team got down to business yesterday, blanking league River Grove, 5-0 on the Arlington High School diamond.

Yesterday's whitewash may have been the best all-around performance turned in by the legionnaires so far. Mark Newman went all the way on the hill, giving up five hits, and his mates supported him with at least a hit an inning.

The Big Blue was guilty of only one harmless error on the field, John Loughman and Marty Gallagher more than compensated for that one with a pair of defensive gems, one of which saved Newman.

Loughman squashed River Grove's only scoring threat in the second inning when he cut down a runner trying to score from second base on a solid single. Gallagher's play came in the fifth frame. The peppery infielder dove for and repaid a line drive over third base that looked like it was destined for extra bases.

RIVER GROVE wasn't nearly as effective defensively. The visitors slipped in three errors, and Arlington's eight-hit attack did the rest.

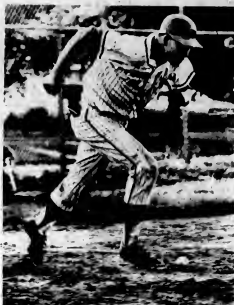

There were a few hiters in the rival lineup though, and Newman got stronger and stronger as the night wore on.

that rally with a long double and moved to third on a wild pitch. Kingman interrupted the rally by firing out, but Loughman got things going again when he drew a walk. Loughman and Gunt then engineered a double steal that sent Gunt across with the fourth run of the game.

LUNDSTEDT followed with his second hit of the game, driving in Loughman with the final Arlington tally. Arlington's league record jumped to 2-1 with yesterday's triumph. The area square's overall slate is 6-4. "The legionnaires will travel to Maine East High School to face Park Ridge Blue in a home contest tonight at 8 p.m. Sunday they meet Skokie at home in an exhibition doubleheader beginning at 1:30 p.m."

Tom Lundstedt swung toward first base early in the first inning last night, but he just tapped out in front of the plate. Lundstedt was pulled on this play, but he repped a single and a double in his other two times at bat.

Marty Gallagher sprinted toward first base while the River Grove first baseman squatted for the ball. Gallagher capitalized on the miscue and eight base hits to post a 2-6 victory.

Boys' Baseball Report

Browns Nip Warriors 3-2

Randy Cordova twisted a struck out 10 men to get the victory. He also rapped a double in his own half, while Rick Shump and Bill Harris tripled for the winners, and Tom Cronin closed a home run. Norm Toberman was the losing finger.

THE NORTH BLUE Junior Titans battled to a 3-2 deadlock with the Sox in a no-holds-barred slug fest between Jim Wegner and Scott Miller. Wegner allowed four Sox hits and fanned 16 batters. Miller whiffed 13 and gave up only five hits.

Then hitting heroes were John Cronin with a triple and John Murdoch with a double. Tom Bernard tripled for the Sox, and Miller added a double.

Rounding out the junior division card, the South Red Buckeyes wallpapered the Padres, 2-0, behind the one-hit hurling of Jay Evenson. Evenson struck out five and ripped a pair of triples.

8th Ward Gets Waycinden Win

Only one game was reported from the Waycinden Area Boys' Baseball League last night, and that one went to the minor division Eighth Ward nine by a 6-5 count over Town and Country Standard.

Mike Owens and Glen Wenzelstrom collaborated on the hit for the winning Eighth Warders. Larry Dale and Owen both cracked triples for the winners.

Net Champ

Michigan State sophomore tennis player Chuck Brannan is a three-time state high school champion from Hamtramck.

Mount Prospect was able to tally in the first by virtue of two Elk Grove miscues. Buck Michaels got the rally started by drawing a walk. Mark Leonard melted first on an error by the Elk Grove pitcher, moving Michaels to third. Leonard then collected his second on an attempted steal enabling Michaels to score.

Prospect scored again in the fifth. Jay Newman opened the inning by drawing a walk. Newman moved to third on a single by Michaels and was driven home by a one-bagger off the bat of Bob Urban. Leonard then bugged a safety to left driving in Michaels. Urban scored the final run of the inning on a sacrifice fly.

Elk Grove managed to tally twice in the top of the sixth on a walk, an error and a two-run single by Gruber.

Prospect scored in final run in the bottom of the sixth when Urban collected his second RBI of the night.
